1. Informants estimate that there are approximately 4,000 students in Poland from Communist countries in Europe and Asia, and about 2,300 students from non-orbit countries. This latter figure includes about 800 students from Yugoslavia, Greece and Spain, and about 180 students from France. Students from Communist countries travel to Poland legally, while the greater part of the students from non-orbit countries allegedly go to Poland illegally. 25X1
2. Foreign students are enrolled in almost all of the Polish universities and higher schools. They attend the schools and universities free of charge. The courses are conducted in the Russian language. Soviet professors and Soviet-trained Communist professors who left or escaped from their homelands are among those who teach these foreign students. 25X1
3. The following is a list of Polish schools which have the largest foreign student enrollment (the schools are listed according to the size of their foreign student enrollment, i.e., the school which is listed first has the largest number of foreign students, etc.):
 - a. Boleslaw Bierut University at Wroclaw (Uniwersytet imienia Boleslawa Bieruta we Wroclawiu). 25X1
 - b. The Polytechnical School at Gdansk (Politechnika w Gdansku).
 - c. The Academy of Mines at Krakow (Akademia Hutniczo-Gornicza w Krakowie).
 - d. The Pstrowski Silesian Polytechnical School at Gliwice (Politechnika Slaska imienia Pstrowskiego w Gliwicach).
 - e. The Kopernik University at Torun (Uniwersytet imienia Kopernika w Toruniu).
 - f. The School of Rural Economics at Warsaw (Szkoła Glowna Gospodarstwa Wiejskiego w Warszawie).
